THEY SKIPPED TOGETHER. A Banner City Elopement in Which a Wife Figures.

During the recent snow storm two Englishmen who had purchased the Bethe farm near Banner City came to Abilene. They took out a big bill of supplies, among the articles being a quarter of a pound of quinine and a jug of whisky. Whether the last named had any serious effect or not is not known but one of the men is in trouble. The Hope Herald tells the story as follows:

John Ryf, a well-to-do German farmer living near Banner City, was here last Friday looking for his wife, a good looking woman of about thirty years, whom Mr. Ryf has reason to believe has eloped with a young Englishman who had been-boarding at for attendance on poor of the county Ryf's and who recently purchased the must be authorized by the overseer of Bethe farm near Banner, The story the poor or county physician. On the following day, having told her husband that she had been unable to see the doctor, she again left, ostensibly to come here, but again went on to Herington and since that time has not been seen and the presumption is that she left with her English lover. This belief is strengthened by the fact that Izom was here and called for a dress made for Mrs, Ryf by Miss Bingham stating that Mrs. Ryf was going away.

Mr. Ryf is very much hurt by the disgrace brought upon him by his wife's desertion. Our Banner correspondent speaks of him as a worthy man and a good husband. The Experiment Station at the agricultural college is preparing to carry on a series of sugar beet experiments for the benefit of Kansas farmers and will do it in a systematic and thorough in the papers of our city. manner. The object is to test the soil and climate of Kansas for raising beets of proper quality for sugar-making, with a view to determining if that industry may be made profitable in this state. It is proposed to select localities which seem to be favorable to successful beet-growing, and induce a number of intelligent farmers-say twelve or direction of the Station authorities. The seed will be provided free of cost, Each farmer will be expected to plant proportion. only a small patch, so as to insure careful and thorough cultivation. The crop, aside from the small quantity which may be required by the Station for experimental purposes, will be the property of the farmer, A limited amount of seed will be distributed to individual farmers, in localities where their neighbors do not care to engage in the experiment.

In this work the Experiment station will seek for information from all reliable sources. They have made special arrangements for advice and assistance from Mr. Hinze, superintendent of the Topeka Sugar company. In addition to his experience in beet-growing in Germany, Mr. Hinze has done several years' successful work at Medicine Lodge, and will therefore be Is it worth while that we jostle a brother, able to materially assist the station in its task.

The seed for these experiments is obtained through several sources, viz., from Paris direct, from seed importers, from the department of agriculture, and Kansas grown seed from Medicine Lodge. It is said that in France and Germany as great care is given to the growing of beet seed as to stockraising. The seed by careful selection is bred up until the yield of sugar is doubled.

The results of these systematic experiments undertaken by the Station authorities will have much to do with the future of the beet-sugar industry in Kansas. Those who will engage in experiments should correspond at once with Prof. Geo. H. Failyer, Man-
